Thanks that's especially scary because it could be very old and weird package or markings..

Thanks

Jay

Subject: RE: RGAS Inventory

Jason,

We have some additional questions, after reviewing your items on the first attachment.

1. What is the plan for cylinders with deposits (125#). Is it RGAS' expectation to get empty cylinders back or are we to bid including the cylinder? We would like for the winning bidder to purchase the 125# cylinders and will have no use for them once emptied. The 125# cylinders are new (1 fill); price per cylinder: $110.
2. We understand that R407F and R438A are patented products by Honeywell and Chemours respectively, can you confirm that these items are their brands and not the brand you listed below or other brands? Confirmed Honeywell and Chemours brand
3. Also attached are emails regarding the warranty for defective cylinders. Your recommendation was 90 days, which we believe is unreasonable based on the amount of product the successful bidder will be taking. We recommend at least 12 months. Should we include this recommendation in our final bid? Yes please.
4. Can you provide us with a total quantity, per item, stored at your listed locations (include City name) so that we can estimate our freight? Example (below)

R421A25CHOICE	67	Indianapolis, Houston, Georgia	25lb disposables
Breakdown
R421A25CHOICE	10	Indianapolis	25lb disposables
R421A25CHOICE	15	Houston	25lb disposables
R421A25CHOICE	42	Georgia (include City)	25lb disposables

Please get back to us as soon as possible so that we can prepare our bid to meet your deadline of 8/31/20.

Thanks,
Star

Star, here are the answers to your questions:

1. Bids are due COB 8/31/20
2. Winning bid expected to be awarded 9/7/20

3. Branding on packaging is a mix of Coolgas, RGAS, and generic
4. Bid is for FOB RGAS warehouse located in Houston (Dunavant), Georgia (DC Logistics) and Indianapolis (Progressive)
5. Terms are pre-pay but if extended terms are preferred bid accordingly
6. This is an all or none bid as we wish to exit our inventory position completely

Thank you, have a great week.

-Jason

Jason,

Thank you for including us in this request for quotation. We have a few question that we would like to ask to get a better idea so we can prepare the quote properly:

When is the bid due?
What is timing of award and shipping expectation for any product awarded?
What brand or markings are on all of the product?
Is delivery included, and would that be generally in full T/L can it be half T/L and we assume it would be to anywhere in the US?
Please confirm that Net 30 days is acceptable for payment.
How long will RGAS warranty the product for any defectives, leakers etc.
Are you only allowing bids for a total of all the products or can we quote on individual or groups of items?

Please let us know as soon as possible so we can prepare quotation, and please let us know what is the due date for accepting bids.

Thank you,

Star

Hi Brian - RGAS doesn't intend to continue to sell refrigerants within the US market after we sell our remaining stockpile, however we will not enter into a transaction which restricts us from being able to supply refrigerants in the US at any time in the future if our plans change.

Thanks,
Jason

Star, see below.

Jason,
Please confirm that upon the completion of this transaction that Rgas is not expecting to continue to sell refrigerants within the US markets.
Best regards,
Brian
